PRIVACY POLICY

MapData Sciences Pty Ltd (MDS) is strongly committed to protecting your privacy while interacting with our services. We aim to provide you with a safe and secure environment.

The purpose of this Privacy Policy is to tell you what kind of information we may gather about you when you visit our site, how we may use that information and whether we disclose it to anyone. Our policy allows you to choose what kind and how much information you provide to us and to control how we use whatever information you give us. We aim to provide you with a satisfying experience while allowing you to control your privacy and enabling you to contact us should you have any questions or concerns.

Collection of information

Depending on the service you are accessing, you may be asked to provide personal information such as your name, address and email address when you sign up to use a service. MDS will collect personal information only when you supply it to us so that we may provide the service selected by you.

This information will not be used to inform you of additional services on offer by MDS.

Personal information collected is not used for any purpose other than to provide the service selected by you.

MDS automatically collects anonymous information to monitor the use of our site, for example, we may collect information about the number of people visiting our site over a period of time. We do not collect any personal details about these visitors.

No credit card information is transmitted to or stored by MDS.

No sale of personal information

Under no circumstances will MDS sell or receive payment for licensing or disclosing your personal information

Disclosure

We do not disclose personal information that you may give us, such as your name, address or email address, to any organisation or person outside MDS unless you have authorised us to do so.

If you have any complaints relating to online privacy issues on our websites, please notify MDS.
